

PARIS HAS A BIG SCANDAL TO DISCUSS

Confession of Notorious Woman Brings up Mysterious Death of President Faure in 1899.

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The arrest of Madame Steinheil tonight, following her confession today that for months since the murder of her painter husband and Mme. Japy, who were found strangled in the home of the artist on the morning of May 31, her attempt to find the assassins and the innumerable fantastic clues she furnished the police and the newspapers were only a desperate farce to conceal the real author of the crime, whom she knew, affords Paris the biggest sensation it has had for years.

Minister of Justice Briand, who is astonished by the seriousness of the charges, is reported already to have begun a secret inquiry to determine the truth of the allegations printed here this afternoon that M. Leydett, the examining magistrate, entertained illicit relations with Mme. Steinheil which induced him to stifle the affair.

Political opponents of the government, like Henri Rochefort, have been trying to make political capital of the affair by seeking to force an exposure of the scandal connected with the mysterious death of Felix Faure, the president of the Republic in 1899. Although hushed up at the time, it was common knowledge among those behind the scenes, that Mme. Steinheil was with Faure at the Elysee palace when he died.

SECRET OF PARTY VICTORY

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Governor Hughes and four of his associates on the recently elected Republican state ticket were the guests at dinner tonight of the Republican club of the city of New York. In response to a toast Governor Hughes said:

"The real secret of success in the nation in the last campaign is that you can not fool the people who are dependent upon the maintenance of business stability into the adoption of foolish measures of reform. Our chief danger lies in the fact that we have been given such a strong endorsement that we may forget the promises that we made. We Republicans, devoted to the success of the party, must hold every man a traitor to the party who stands in the way of the party doing what it promised the people it would do."

(By Associated Press.)

SAVANNAH (Ga.), Nov. 26.—A Fiat car sent plunging through changing fog and sunshine over 402 miles of roadways by the experienced hand of Louis Wagner today won the most spectacular, longest and fastest international automobile race ever held in this country by fifty-six seconds. Hemery, in a German Benz car, the favorite of followers of automobile racing, took second honors. Nazarro, the wonderful Italian driver, held first place for a time, but lost on account of tire trouble in the last lap of the race. In winning the grand prize race of the Automobile Club of America over the Savannah course, Wagner set a new record for road racing in this country. George Robertson in the Vanderbilt cup race of 256 miles last month set a mark of 64.3 miles per hour. Today in a longer distance of 402 miles, Wagner raised it to 65.3. He averaged twenty-five minutes to each one of the sixteen laps, that measured 25.13 miles. His fastest lap was 21:50, but the lap honors of the day when to Depalma at the wheel of Fiat No. 18, which twice made the circle in 21:36, an average of about seventy miles per hour.

Henriot, driving Benz No. 16, had a hard struggle to finish the race, as his engine fuel was about exhausted and it was only by exertion of human strength that the car managed to cross the line. When the car was within twenty yards of the finish line it seemed the battle was lost, but in the last expiring gasp of the exhausted engine the rear wheels cleared the tape and fourth place had been won for Germany. More than once the mechanic and Henriot had to give the heavy tires a push so as to keep it moving. American cars entered seemed unable to keep pace with the foreign cars, and only one had finished when the race was called off.

CUMMINS SUCCEEDS ALLISON

DES MOINES (Ia.), Nov. 26.—A. B. Cummins was at noon yesterday elected by the Iowa legislature United States senator to succeed the late William R. Allison. The vote stood: Cummins, 106; Porter, Democrat, 35. Three Republicans did not vote.

Cummins' re-election to the six-year term next January is unquestioned.

Lieutenant Governor Garst was inaugurated as governor of Iowa in Cummins' stead at a joint session of the house and senate this afternoon.

When Senator Cummins walked to the speaker's stand, preceded by his aged father, pandemonium broke loose. Cheering continued for five minutes.

Senator Cummins in a brief speech thanked both the Republican and Democratic members of the legislature for the support they had given during the seven years of his administration as governor of Iowa. He declared that in so far as he was concerned bitter factionalism in Iowa is at an end.

At the close of the joint session Cummins resigned as chief executive of the state and the oath of office was administered to Lieutenant Governor Garst.

While Senator Cummins' speech of acceptance was a plea for harmony and an eradication of factional differences in Iowa, he was none the less specific on questions which have engaged his attention during his past career. Speaking of his attitude on the tariff he pledged himself and his efforts for immediate revision. He declared himself unalterably opposed to discrimination in the matter of freight rates and condemned stock watering and other abuses by corporations.
